

WOMAN IN MAN'S GARB

Jealous Wife Uses Disguise to Detect Husband.

FOLLOWS HIM TO LODGE ROOM

Mrs. Walters, Wearing Masculine Attire, Slouch Hat, and Piratical Black Mustache, Arrested in Streets—Tears and Repentance at Station.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—Suspecting her husband's fidelity, Mrs. W. C. Walters, forty-eight years old, claiming to reside on Twelfth street north, last evening donned a suit of clothes, hid her tell-tale hair beneath a broad-brimmed fedora, stuck a ferocious-looking, jet-black false mustache on her upper lip, and when her husband left their home, stealthily followed him through the streets.

When she saw that her husband had really gone to his lodge, as he had told her he intended doing, Mrs. Walters started home, light of heart over the discovery that her fears were groundless, but trembling in apprehension that her disguise would be penetrated. And a poor disguise it was. The man's clothing hung in folds from her spare frame; her feet were lost from sight beneath the legs of the trousers, and the big black mustache presented a weird contrast with the white skin. Small wonder that Policeman F. M. McPherson, while patrolling his beat on Ninth street northwest, stopped the woman when she attempted to pass him.

When taken to the First precinct police station, Mrs. Walters burst into tears, and confessed to her masquerade.

"I was wrong," she sobbed. "I ought to have known better, but I was so jealous. And I don't care if you send me to jail for a year, as long as I know my husband was not deceiving me. I am the happiest woman in Washington tonight."

The First precinct authorities lost no time in communicating with the woman's relatives. A nephew soon arrived with more suitable apparel, and the two left the station arm-in-arm. The charge of appearing in man's clothing will not be pressed against Mrs. Walters, and so far as the police are concerned, the incident is closed.

COUNTRESS STRUCK BY BRUTE HUSBAND

Intends to Return to America.
In the Countess' pleading, M. Cruppi protested against the "malicious reports in regard to the Countess' intentions" and announced that she would leave France for America immediately after a divorce is granted her. In recounting the Count's infidelity, the first instance cited by counsel, was that with a married woman described as "Madame A." in 1898. The correspondence was conducted through M. Moret, the Count's secretary.

Love Letters Discovered.
The Countess accidentally discovered in the Castellane Chateau a packet of love letters, and when she protested, the Count struck her. The Countess eventually placed the letters in the custody of a lawyer.

M. Cruppi read a passionate extract from one of the love letters fixing a rendezvous at Dijon. It read: "I am kissing you on the neck. Do you feel it?" and so on.

Counsel also detailed liaisons with "Madame B." and "Madame C." whom the Count met in apartments, which he rented in different parts of Paris. M. Cruppi read from a note book, kept by the Count of one of these apartments, giving brutally plain details of what counsel characterized as "an unpardonable offense against the Countess."

Maid Mounted Guard.
He also recounted the liaison with "Madame C." whose maid mounted guard and signalled from a window when the count was clear.

"But," the counsel said, "the Count's love affairs, were not confined to ladies of society. They included numerous other women," the reading of whose letters created merriment in court.

Count Prey of Women.
M. Cruppi said that the Count's defense would probably be that, being young and rich, he could not protect himself against the assaults of love-sick women. In the face of the overwhelming evidence submitted, M. Cruppi declared his opponent could not expect the Tribunal to ask for the summoning of witnesses. Counsel added:

"Does he imagine by dragging out the case to obtain forgiveness? No. No, Count Boni's plan to reconquer his wife's affection, is too transparent."

Refused to Meet Count's Women.
The final rupture came the day after the famous entertainment of King Charles of Portugal, December 12, 1905. The Count at that time insisted that the Countess go with him to a shooting party given by a noble woman, of whom the Countess had cause to complain, and the Count became enraged at the Countess' refusal, she abruptly announced her intention to separate from him and began legal proceedings.

Counsel placed at $8,000,000 the total of the Count's expenditures preceding the appointment of a trustee. At one time, there was a seizure of their property in a suit for recovery of a debt amounting to $229,600.

M. Cruppi had not finished his presentation of the case, when the hearing was adjourned until next week.

HEARST CONFIDENT OF BEING ELECTED

supporters and the Republican machine as genuine and that the confidence of the Hearst supporters is ever increasing.

"The Republican management as well as the independence League management knows that the election has been won by Mr. Hearst. There is practically no Democratic defection."

MURPHY CONFIDENT.

Tammany Workers Told to Get Out the Vote for Hearst.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The following letter has been sent by leader Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, to all the members of the auxiliary committees of the Tammany Hall general committee:

"On the eve of the most important election, ever held in this State, I take the liberty of making to you a personal appeal to support the full Democratic ticket. There has been in the city, a great deal of misrepresentation of the position of this organization, and I desire that no member of the general or the auxiliary committees, should be left in doubt as to our position, or should be misled by the statements of the Republican press. To that end, I now write to ask you to do your full share towards bringing about a decided victory, and predict that if every man does his part, the Democratic ticket will have a handsome majority on November 6. (Signed) CHARLES F. MURPHY."

WOMAN BEFEATHERED

Four East Sandy Wives Apply Fluffy Coat to Neighbor.

VICTIM MARCHED OUT OF TOWN

Stove polish and Molasses Used as a Foundation—Victim Tied to Box for Public Inspection—Persecutors Let Off With Light Fines.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 31.—Four married women of the village of East Sandy, four miles from here, treated a woman neighbor to a coat of stove polish, molasses, and feathers. Their arrests followed, but upon pleading guilty, they were released on the payment of small fines.

The four women are respected members of the community. They are Mrs. Verda Lowry, Mrs. Bertina Brinkman, Mrs. Nellie Glaze, and Mrs. Hilda Pherson. Their victim was Mrs. Hattie Lowry, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Verda Lowry.

According to the story of Mrs. Glaze, Mrs. Hattie Lowry has been acting in a manner that did not meet their approval. The four women, decided to take matters in their own hands. They called at the home of Mrs. Hattie Lowry and told her that they intended humiliating her before the community. Two of the women seized her, while the other pair doctored stove polish on her face until it was entirely covered. Then molasses was poured on her head and a coat of feathers applied.

Thus disgraced the woman was marched out of the house and to a railroad camp, where two hundred men are employed. There was a complete suspension of work until the self appointed vigilance committee took their victim away. At the outskirts of the town they tied the woman to a large box, where they left her. A man came along a half an hour later and released the captive.

Mrs. Lowry came to Franklin and swore out warrants for the arrest of the women who had humiliated her. Sheriff McElhenry went to East Sandy and arrested all but Mrs. Pherson who was not at home. When the three prisoners were arraigned before Alderman Henderson in Franklin they pleaded guilty. A sentence of a fine of $10 and costs was imposed, which the husbands of the women paid.

Mrs. Lowry, the victim, declares that the treatment was entirely uncalled for. She says she will continue to live at East Sandy.

NEW CHARTER FOR MALLORY LINE RECORDED IN MAINE

Under Reorganized Plan Its Capitalization is Placed at Fourteen Million Dollars.

(By Associated Press.)
BATH, ME., Oct. 31.—The certificate of incorporation under the laws of Maine of the Mallory Steamship Company, recently acquired by W. G. Morse, of New York, was recorded here today. The company has been reorganized, by the new management with a capitalization of $14,000,000.

The charter is a broad one, giving the right to build, buy and sell everything in connection with the steamship business and to do a transportation business.

P. E. Coyle, of Brookline, Mass., is president; L. L. Hight, treasurer, and Frederick Low, of this city, who is clerk of nearly all of Mr. Morse's steamship companies, is clerk of the new company.

NEW FORDS HOTEL ON FIRE.

Commercial House Suffers $3,000 Loss From Flames and Smoke.

(Special to the Daily Press.)
RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 31.—Fire in New Fords, a commercial hotel, came near destroying that structure tonight. Fifty rooms on the kitchen side of the building suffered by reason of the flames and water, the guests occupying them being driven out.

A fierce wind was blowing at the time and it was thought for half an hour that the entire building was doomed.

The damage is estimated at $3,000. The hotel is near the City Hall the capitol building and the governor's mansion.

NO GARRISON AT ST. HELENA.

Islanders Will Suffer as a Result of the Change.

(By Associated Press.)
JAMESTOWN, ISLAND OF ST. HELENA, Oct. 31.—For the first time in its history, since it became a British possession, St. Helena is today without a garrison. All the troops have been withdrawn as a measure of economy, the guns and ammunition have been removed and the island is left entirely defenceless.

The outlook for the Islanders is dark as they practically lived off the garrison and will now have no market for their products.

Strike Breakers Arrive.
(By Associated Press.)
KNOXVILLE, TENN., Oct. 31.—A party of twenty-one strike breakers arrived here today, presumably from points on the Queen and Crescent railroad, and went to work in the shops of the Southern railway.

UTE INDIANS ROUT NEGRO TROOPS IN A SKIRMISH

Crows and Cheyennes Are Leaving Reservations to Take Part in the Coming Fight.

(By Associated Press.)
SHERIDAN, WYO., Oct. 31.—A skirmish occurred today between a band of the renegade Ute Indians and a troop of the Tenth Cavalry on Blitter Creek. The troops had captured fifty Ute ponies.

As the troopers were driving away the ponies, one hundred Utes fully armed, surrounded the cavalrymen and the ponies, stampeding the ponies with revolver shots and war whoops. The Indians recovered all the ponies, but five that were killed by the troops in an effort to stop the stampede.

The Indians did not fire at the soldiers. The soldiers desisted from attacking the Utes as the reds greatly outnumbered the troopers.

Troopers say that, as far as they can ascertain from rumor and observation, the Indians will fight with little provocation.

Another detachment of the Tenth Cavalry, that left Sheridan Monday night, can across a wandering band of one hundred Crow Indians under command of Chief Sweet Mouth. The troopers drove the Crows back toward the Crow agency. The Crows said that they were hunting and denied any intention of joining the Utes.

Still another band of the Tenth Cavalry fell in with a band of Cheyenne Indians, who on representation, that they were hunting were allowed to go in peace.

Settlers charge that Indian guides, employed by the federal troops are acting treacherously and leading the troops on false trails to keep the soldiers from overtaking the Utes.

These settlers mention among the wily scouts Womans Dress, American Horse and White Cow Bull.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN COUGHS UP A BULLET

Nephew, of General Robert E. Lee, Has Odd Experience Preceding His Death.

(By Associated Press.)
PORTLAND, ORE., Oct. 31.—In a violent fight of coughing shortly before his death at the local hospital, H. L. Mills, an Oregon pioneer of 1876 and nephew of General Robert E. Lee, yesterday raised from his lungs a bullet that he had carried in his body since the civil war when as a member of the Fifteenth New York Engineer Corps, he fought against the army commanded by his mother's brother.

Mr. Morris was married and leaves a family.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, one's youthful appearance.

It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair.

The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use.

Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitute—there is none.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
